CERTAINTY: IN CONCRETE

Prolong The Life Of Your Moulds

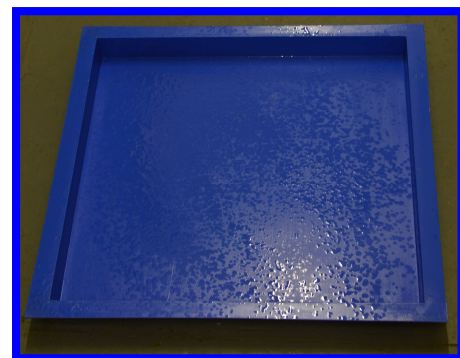

Do not over use release agents

Over oiling does not increase performance - it is wasteful and will stain your concrete.

Spraying moulds with a fine mist is the best application method.

The release agent should glisten on the mould surface.

Using the correct spray gun nozzle will reduce wastage and ensure a light film on the mould.

TECH TIP

NEVER use a garden sprayer this will use too much oil
